Five Eye Homecoming Queen Crown

By RUTH MILLER

Christian character, personality, beauty and school service are traits that Olivet students look for in a Homecoming Queen.

Pictured above are the five finalists from which the Homecoming Queen and her court will be chosen this year. Tuesday is the day of final elections when one of these girls will become the Homecoming Queen for 1966.

Two of the five finalists are seniors, Mary Sue Jones and Holly Crist. Beverly Nash, Kathy Eckley and Peg Garner are juniors.

MISS JONES, from Bourbonnais, is majoring in elementary education. She plans to teach and attend graduate school after she leaves Olivet. Mary Sue is secretary of the Associated Students, a member of the Lyceum Committee and Orpheus Choir. In her junior year she was on the Social Committee. During her freshman year Mary Sue served the Women's Resident Association. Mary Sue's hobbies are sewing, music, reading and swimming.

HOLLY CRIST, from Racine, Wis., is an elementary education major. Holly was born on Christmas day and is the first of a family of four children. She has a brother and two sisters. Holly attends Racine Bible Church when she is home. After graduation she wants to teach in the fifth grade. At Olivet Holly sings in Treble Clef Choir, plays in the band, is a member of Honor Society and captain of the varsity basketball cheerleading squad.

BEVERLY NASH lives in Bradley. She is the only girl in a family of three brothers. Her major is business education and she plans to teach bookkeeping and shorthand in high school after graduation. Bev, as she is known by fellow students, is a member of both Treble Clef Choir and the Heritage Singers. She is junior class council representative at large and regional secretary for the AAES. Her interests vary from interior decorating to water skiing.

PEG GARNER from New Castle, Ind., is an education major. She has one 8-year-old sister. Peg wants to teach social science after graduation. She is student body social chairman this year.

Last year Peg served as a counselor in Williams Hall and as athletic director of Gamma society. Peg is probably best known for her friendly smile.

KATHY ECKLEY'S home is Peoria, Ill. She is an English major and French minor and plans to teach on the junior high level. Kathy is president of the WRA and sings in Orpheus Choir. She was treasurer of her sophomore class and served in other capacities on WRA previously. Music, sewing and swimming are just a few of her interests.

The voting booth where ballots of your selection for Homecoming Queen may be cast will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday. The voting booth is located in the east basement lounge of Ludwig Center.

We Do Care...

Seventy-four Child Care applications have joined those previously lonely 13. Twenty-eight children have big brothers and sisters. And Kankakee knows—we care.

The Associated Students Child Care committee acted on faith in the compassion of the student body. That faith wavered temporarily, but was restored by the sudden response after an Associated Students chapel presentation Oct. 19 and an editorial in last week's issue of the Glimmerglass. Such a favorable impression was made on the Kankakee County Public Aid Department that by Thanksgiving the program will be expanded to include all who applied and interested persons who wish to make application in the future.

Monday evening the children will be taken trick or treating. At 7 p.m., the children and their sponsors will meet for a Halloween party.

THESE STUDENTS, some working in teams of two or three, have been assigned positions in the program—Greg Cooper, Gloria Hacker, Jan Huffman, Charlie Cremeans, Pat Warner, Diania Carney, Bonnie Baker, Linda Hill, Pam Anderson, Wes Jetter, Bill Seals, Michelle Gregory, Mary Scott, Dorothy Husted, Jeanette Gill, John Gray, Janice Greuel, Jean Tomes, Arvin Adcock, Barbara Hill, Judy White, Jim Castevens, Sharon Wilkinson, Al Watson, Joe Youmanis, Linda Steckhan, Marian Campbell, Rita Moody, Dean Howe, Marcia Clendenen, Lucy Staten, Micki Waters, Sheryl Murphy, Ruth Miller, Charles Ray, Bob Kuhn, Vicki Vorce, Edie Holcomb, Duane Clinker and Judy Burgess, chairman of the committee.

We appreciate the cooperation of the faculty, expressed in the sponsorship of the program undertaken by Dr. and Mrs. Little. E.H.

TRIBUTE TO GREAT POET

"FROSTIANA" PROGRAM TONIGHT

The Olivet music and English departments will present "Frostiana" at 8:30 p.m. tonight in Chalfant Hall.

The program, an arrangement of seven country songs using the works of poet Robert Frost and music of Randall Thompson will be given through the combined efforts of Orpheus Choir, Treble Clef Choir, Viking Male Chorus and readers from the English department.

Introduction to the event will be given by Professor Bonnie Jackson. Orpheus Choir will begin the actual program with its presentation of "The Road Not Taken," an arrangement by Frost and Thompson. Orpheus Choir, Olivet's mixed chorale group, is under the direction of Professor Naomi Larsen.

The Viking Male Chorus, Professor Donald Murray directing, will present "The Pasture" and Treble Clef Choir, an all woman group directed by Professor Irving Kranich, will perform "Come In." All three musical selections are by Frost and Thompson.

"MENDING WALL" and "Birches," both by Frost, will be read by student Edie Holcomb. She will be assisted by senior harpist Dale Everett. A brief intermission will follow the two readings by Miss Holcomb.

Selections to be heard after intermission will be "The Telephone" by Orpheus Choir; Treble Clef Choir's rendition of "A Girl's Garden"; reading of "The Death of the Hired Man" by students Jane Crisman, Richard Ungerbuehler and Dan Laufer; "Stopping by the Woods on a Snowy Evening" by Viking Male Chorus; "After Apple Picking" and "Wild Grapes" read by Professor Leroy Reedy, and "Choose Something Like a Star" by Orpheus Choir. Again, all musical numbers are Frost-Thompson arrangements.

"Frostiana" was composed June 15-17, 1959, in Gstaad, Switzerland, and first performed Oct. 18, 1959, by the Amherst Bicentennial Chorus with Randall Thompson conducting and Frost as a guest in the audience.

PASTOR'S COMMENT

Today's Preparation Tomorrow's Reality

By DR. FORREST W. NASH
College Church Pastor

Everyone's life is prophetic. Shoddy preparation today predicts the inadequate man of tomorrow. Likewise, moral and spiritual carelessness in college days classifies the character ere the time of maturity is reached. Of course, there is always the possibility for change for both good and bad. But the longer the trifler postpones his change of direction, the less are his chances for doing so. Our friends have little difficulty in discerning our prophetic voice. A few frank and honest words from them might be the means of awakening some to their plight.

The apostle Paul speaks to the point when he says, "Every man's work shall be made manifest; for the day shall declare it, because it shall be revealed by fire; and the fire shall try every man's work of what sort it is." So as we play the prophet's role let us prophesy according to the wisdom of Him who calls us to discipleship by way of His cross.

A GHASTLY LOOKING GROUP

GLIMMERGLASS photographer Andy Holmgren caught this ghastly looking "pair" "ghosting" around the campus the other evening, pre-haunting in a prelude to Olivet's Halloween party Saturday night. Holmgren was frightened away before he could get the haunter's names, but learned later Bill Dennis is wearing the sheet, Paul Homan is the headless character and that's John Holmgren's head, not his own, Homan is carrying.

Kita Kamakura Talk Depicts Japanese Life

By RICHARD NICHOLS

Tim Isenberg, son of Rev Donald T. Isenberg, a Bourbonnais resident, presented a slide program entitled Kita Kamakura on Wednesday, Oct. 19, at Chalfant Hall.

The program concerned a small Japanese town and the lives of its 6,000 inhabitants.

This same program is shown to military personnel arriving in Japan for the first time in an effort to acquaint the latter with Japanese customs and practices they might otherwise not be familiar with.

Isenberg, a black belt Karate expert, is a Navy photojournalist. He, along with another photojournalist, Bill Clough, and Philip Hessler, a Navy musician, conceived and produced the entire program. The three were concerned with the relative ignorance of actual Japanese life by military personnel returning to the United States.

THE SLIDES depicted all facets of life in Kita Kamakura. Those in attendance saw Japanese life from the daily shopping excursions of the women to the daily ritualistic lives of the Buddhist monks.

Attention in the slides was focused on the Japanese educational system. The privileges of education there are extended to only a select few and entrance exams comparable to our college entrance exams are given to those attempting to gain admission into high school.

Isenberg, who visited here with his parents, spent five years in Japan and speaks the language fluently. The youthful lensmen did a commendable job presenting the program and gave the audience a side of Japanese life rarely seen in this country.

Isenberg has returned to his tour of Naval duty, reporting to North Island, Calif.

NO STRANGER TO OLIVET

Coach Ward Leads Tigers

This is the last of a series on the three men who will be coaching Olivet's first intercollegiate varsity and junior varsity basketball teams.

C. W. Ward, head coach of Olivet's unprecedented intercollegiate basketball team has varied and many years of coaching experience.

Coach Ward came to Olivet in 1958 as the school's athletic director.

However, '58 wasn't the first time on Olivet's campus for the 42-year-old coach.

Coach Ward did his undergraduate work at Olivet, graduating in 1952. He holds a masters degree from Auburn University.

WHILE A student at Olivet, Coach Ward won 13 athletic letters. He earned three each in football, basketball, baseball and softball and one in swimming.

Coach Ward was born in Murphysboro, Ill., but likes to call Atlanta, Ga., his home. The personable mentor and AD coached at Atlanta High Schools upon graduation from Olivet until his return in '58.

At Roosevelt High School in Atlanta, where he coached from 1952 to '57, Ward was elected all city baseball coach of the year in 1957 and produced five all state baseball players that year. He was also the Georgia region three triple A all star baseball coach, coaching the Atlanta all star team.

In addition to his baseball coaching job at Roosevelt, Coach Ward was the school's varsity football end coach and B team basketball coach.

COACH WARD spent the 1957-58 seasons at Bass High School, also a triple A Atlanta school. At Bass, Coach Ward tutored the varsity ends, was head basketball coach and head baseball coach.

In his one year at Bass, Coach Ward had one all state basketball player selected from his high school cage team.

Coach Ward graduated from high school in 1942 and played service ball in the Navy from 1942 through 1946.

Coach Ward played a guard position in basketball, quarterback, halfback and end in football and third base in baseball. J.H.

Record Attendance At Olivet 'Senior Day'

High school Senior Day, Oct. 21, attracted over 1100 prep students, juniors and seniors, to Olivet's campus. The amount was 300 over the original number expected to be here.

"The large number in attendance for the day was due in part that not only seniors, but juniors were invited to visit the campus," observed Dr. Donald Gibson, vice-president in charge of field services and director of the day's activities. The event in previous years was predominantly for seniors.

However, even with juniors attending, no more than 1000 were expected to visit the campus. The 1110 who attended were the most ever here for Senior Day. Each of the 15 districts on the educational zone were represented with the largest group from the Chicago Central District.

"The tremendous response," Dr. Gibson thought, "will probably result in an increased enrollment." According to Norman Moore, Olivet's director of admissions, over 400 admission brochures and 500 application blanks were given to the guests.

"THE MAIN purpose of high school day is to present to the students a day in the life of an Olivetian," noted Dr. Gibson. It is for that reason the visitors are roomed in dormitories, eat in Ludwig Center dining room, attend chapel, go to class demonstration sessions, which are designed as a substitute for classes and do other things they might do if they were actually enrolled at Olivet.

PLAY TRYOUTS

Play tryouts are being held in Burke room 302 today from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m. and Monday and Tuesday from 7 to 9 p.m.

Jet Service To Kankakee
Could Aid ONC Student

By TOM MILK

Within a year, Kankakee will have commercial jet service from two airlines. Ozark, which serves the western half of the Midwest, and Lake Central, which serves the eastern half of the Midwest, are expected to start service after a Jan. 1, CAB hearing. Airport authorities are so certain of service that they are lengthening the main runways by about 1,00 feet and widening them by 20 feet. All taxi lanes are to be widened also.

The Greater Kankakee Airport is located three miles south of Kankakee on Illinois Route 49 and U.S. 52, while Koener Airport is located two miles southwest of Kankakee on Illinois 115.

When the commercial service comes, it will benefit not only the community, but the college as well. Ozark Airlines' student price is one-half the regular fare.

THIS PAST summer, Kankakee Senior High Schol split into two smaller schools with an enrollment of about 850 each. These schools, Eastridge and Westview, also dropped out of the old South Suburban League which was formed in 1929 and entered the newly formed Illini-8 Conference.

While many of their activities lack the grandeur of the old high school, the new schools are surprising everyone in their football achievements and the performances of both marching bands. The bands, of course, are not as large or as highly polished as they would be as a single unit.

The football teams are the real surprise so far for the new schools. Westview and Eastridge sport 4-1 and 2-3 records respectively this first year.

COMING Thursday, Nov. 3, to the East Junior High School gymnasium is the "Little Angels" chorus from Korea. This group is made up of 26 girls ranging in age from 7 through 13. They are sponsored by the Eastridge High School chorus. Reserve seat tickets can be obtained for $2.50 from any Eastridge chorus member or at Piersol's Music House in downtown Kankakee. More information will be released at a later date.

Social Committee
Asks Student Help

One of the busiest organizations on campus is the social committee. Headed by Peg Garner and composed of three representatives from each class, this committee is responsible for almost all social activities. The purpose of this committee is to provide recreational enjoyment for the students on campus every weekend.

Currently two major social events are being planned: the Christmas and Valentine parties. Plans for the Christmas party are already in full swing.

All students are given an opportunity to donate their services to the committee. Application blanks are to be placed in mail boxes. If any student has the time and ability to be of service to the committee, he should fill out the information sheets and return them to Miss Garner.
